

Upcoming Street Painting Festival Marks 12th year of Entertaining and Giving

FunWithChalk™ marks 12 years of success and support for scholarships, art education, and has provided art programs for those who have suffered from domestic abuse and/or violence. The 12th annual street painting and fine arts festival on Saturday and Sunday, April 24 and 25, 2010, features re-creations of the Old Masters and original works, all by noted artists from all over the world and all created on asphalt. Fine food, entertainment for all ages all day both days, and world-famous one-of-a-kind art workshops make this Festival an event not to be missed.

Hours: 10:00 AM to 5 PM., both days. Location: Norman P. Murray Community Center, 24932 Veterans Way (at La Paz), in Mission Viejo. Admission and parking are free. See the website for further information and directions:
